Curriculum

Reading

Students will ask and answer questions to demonstrate understanding of fictional text and refer to the text for evidence based answers.

They will continue to establish independent reading habits and work on beginning of year assessments.

Writing

Students will work on narrative writing.

Math

Students will fluently add and subtract within 1,000 using strategies based on place value, properties of operations, and/or the relationship between addition and subtraction.

Social Studies

Students will understand the three branches of government, with an emphasis on local government. They will also describe the structure of local government and how it functions to serve citizens.

Websites to Explore

Periodically, we will post sites we've used in our classroom or sites we haven't used, but you can explore with your child. A great deal of thought and time has gone into choosing sites intended for student use. However, with the rapidly changing nature of the Internet, there is always the possibility a student can run into inappropriate material. Please remember that Forestville Road has no control for the ever-changing content of Web sites.

 That's a Fact! provides opportunity to check knowledge of addition, subtraction, multiplication, & division facts.
